

When I was in seventh grade, I was very puzzled by the concept of infinity. I asked my teacher why there is no highest number, to which he replied, "No matter what number you name, I can add one to it and achieve a larger number." The concept is still amazing to me, along with the thought of eternity. God has planned for His children to live with Him for all eternity, an infinite amount of time with no ending number!

Isaiah 55:8-9 explains the puzzle completely: "8For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord. 9For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts."

God is surely not on the same wavelength as we are in our thinking. It is useless to try to understand or explain His ways as we live our lives. To ask, "Why did God allow this? Why didn't God change that? Why does He allow such sickness, or poverty, or destruction?" results from failure to understand the Bible's explanation of God's Ways. Life is just not comprehensible to our feeble minds compared to God's. He planned all our lives in His way, not ours, and His ways are perfect and totally in His will.

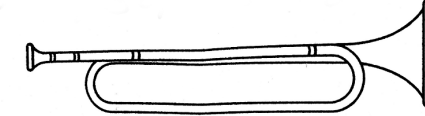

Scientists cannot measure the height of the heavens or the distance from earth to the outermost galaxies, but those numbers are definitely amazing! Such is our God's infinite love as He sent His only begotten Son, Jesus Christ, to be our Savior, so we who have accepted this wonderful gift of eternal life can live with Him in Heaven for all eternity, an infinite amount of time with no ending number!

May we truly trust today in the infinite, and holy God Who loves us beyond measure!

The Pastor's Paragraph

*Dear Friends,
Trumpet readers, we greet you with this April issue. Spring has sprung, flowers are blooming, and the dormancy has once again come to life. We trust that your spiritual life is equally unfolding. Every Christian should be blossoming for God. We should certainly be growing and progressing in wisdom and knowledge for God. You say, "you are not a Christian"? We can help. Let us know.*

Underlying Current

As you look out across the waters in Greenland today, you will find many icebergs floating across the surface in one direction. The interesting thing is that underneath, there are many other icebergs moving in the opposite direction of those that are resting on top. They are composed of the same thing yet headed in two different directions.

The icebergs on the surface of the water are affected by the winds that blow, and they change direction based on what is happening around them. A more powerful force is found underneath the water which are the actual currents of the ocean. These currents are not affected by the things that are changing, instead, they never change direction from their original creation.

The fads, trends, and ever-changing philosophies of this world are always pushing us back and forth, however the unchanging principles of God's word, the Bible, can pull us from within toward Divine and Eternal truth. We can trust God's Holy Word to lead us correctly.
